

Attend online and call-in forum March 27

The way forward for UK lecturers after the revolt against the University and College Union

24 March 2018

The Socialist Equality Party (UK) is holding an online and call-in forum for lecturers, college staff, other education workers and students on Tuesday, March 27 at 7.30 p.m.

It will discuss how to take the struggle out of the hands of the University and College Union (UCU) — following the revolt by lecturers against the UCU's attempted sell-out—by establishing rank-and-file committees based on a socialist programme and organising a turn to workers throughout the education sector in Britain and internationally who face the same attacks.

To participate in the meeting, click here when the meeting begins, or call +44 330 221 0088 and enter access code 900-111-333. Note, if using your phone from the UK, the number will be billed at the national call rate.

To contact the WSWs and the
Socialist Equality Party visit:

<http://www.wsws.org>